

Couch Potatoes

Hey there, fellow Couch Potatoes!

Welcome to our little corner of the couch where we're cooking up something exciting – our very own Series Tracker!

We (the Couch Potatoes) want to make sure our Series Tracker hits all the right notes, and who better to guide us than our fellow TV aficionados?

We've whipped up a batch of questions to pick your brain and get your insights on how you think our Series Tracker works.

Let's make binge-watching even better, one series at a time!

Lights, camera, questionnaire!

How would you describe what this product does?

I imagine the app helps me keep tabs on my favorite shows, providing information on episodes, schedules, keep track of series I'm currently watching and maybe even recommendations based on my preferences and history

What would you want this product to look like?

I'd prefer a clean and visually appealing design with customizable lists for tracking different shows. Dark mode and an option for theme customization would be great. Darker colours would be easier on the eyes. Cool but minor animations that don't interfere with the user flow

What should this product be able to do to make it perfect for you?

I'd like the app to have an intuitive interface, easy navigation, personalized recommendations, and perhaps a feature to notify me about upcoming episodes. It should show series related to what I'm watching

What kind of people do you think would use this product ?

This product would likely appeal to TV enthusiasts, binge-watchers, and anyone who enjoys keeping up with multiple series

Have you used a similar product before and if so what made it stand out to you ?

I've used similar apps before, and what stood out was seamless integration with streaming services, real-time updates, and interface that is easy on the eyes. Things are easy to find and clear text
